

2014 BVCS CONFERENCE

- Venue

Sprowston Manor Hotel, Norwich

- Format

Two day weekend session for vets

- Principal Guest Speakers:

Dr Chris Cebra from Oregon State University College of Veterinary Medicine, USA gave presentations on:

Case based colic
Infections and antibiotics
Camelid parasites
Skin problems in camelids

Dr Anna Firshman from the University of Minnesota College of Veterinary Medicine gave presentations on:

Ten things to know about camelid blood work
Camelid respiratory disease
Camelid cardiac disease

- Other presentations:

Topics from the Ohio International Camelid Health Conference 2014
Andrea Turner

TB testing of camelids in the UK – the current situation. Also presenting SureFarm, a new voluntary surveillance scheme for camelids
Alastair Hayton

Top four causes of neonatal mortality
Claire Whitehead

- Report

Norwich proved to be a location easier to access for our foreign delegates by air than to reach by road for most of the Brits! The hotel was exceedingly comfortable and we were provided with endless supplies of food – not just three square meals a day, but also pastries, muffins, cookies and smoothies during tea and coffee breaks

Conference delegates with Dr Chris Cebra 2nd row far right, Dr Anna Firshman on his right

Once again an informative and interesting weekend with a convivial 20th anniversary dinner on the Saturday evening where regular attendees could be spotted ageing gracefully as we viewed a series of photos taken at conferences over the last 20 years!